Heard the learned counsel for the parties.

At the time of hearing the writ petition on 9.5.2005, the parties were given permission to cross-examination while allowing the proceedings to continue.

Keeping in view the pleadings, we are satisfied that it is a fit case in which cross-examination of the deponent on the question of facts ought to have been allowed in terms of the guidelines stated in Aasandas V/s State of Rajasthan and ors. reported in 2005 (2) CDR 1277.

Accordingly, the writ petition stands disposed of in terms of interim order dtd.9.5.2005.
